

IRATE BROADWAY MANOR FLAYS JAILING OF MOTHERS

Picketing Moms 'Sick' From Ordeal

Quartet Spends
Night In Bucks
County Prison

While four Broadway Manor or mothers were recuperating from the ordeal of a night in Bucks County Prison, on a public nuisance charge, their neighbors, incensed over the incident, were gathering legal strength to come to their aid.

The women, all on the verge of hysteria, were confined to bed under doctors' orders yesterday after their release from prison.

The women are: Mrs. Margaret Beschert, 29, of 3104 Broadway avenue; Mrs. Lu Vera Riggle, 32, of 1409 Fourth avenue; Mrs. June Lundholm, 32, of 3102 Broadway avenue; and Mrs. Mary Owen, of 3108 Broadway avenue.

They were arrested 10:30 p. m., Saturday, on warrants sworn out by August J. Hertweck, Philadelphia, and Bertram W. Rudy, Langhorne Manor, builders of Broadway Manor and Laurel Bend. The builders swore out the warrants after the women took part in the protest picketing across the street from the sample homes in Laurel Bend.

"This is ridiculous," said William Hodgkiss, chairman of a group of Broadway residents who have been protesting conditions in their community. "Snatching these women from their children and throwing them in jail like common criminals is outrageous. We will fight this with all we have."

Plan Legal Action

He said the group would meet with an attorney tonight to discuss the matter.

Good Evening!

Big Chicago extravaganza under way.

For the next two weeks 'we'd like to be chummy around with the boys up in Iceland. The hot air on this continent is going to be just about two degrees below absolutely unbearable.

Truman the kingmaker? We'll all know better the end of the week. Could be the only real role he's playing is that of splitting the Democratic party wide open and lessening whatever chances it may have for a respectable showing against Eisenhower.

But we'll see what we see.

Four Broadway Manor mothers jailed for protesting against septic tank, cesspool and other conditions about their homes.

Here's hoping the residents of this new development really go to town on that one. That little section of Lower Bucks county is in America, isn't it? Have we come to a miserable estate where people demanding what they think is right are summarily imprisoned for their courage?

Justice of the Peace Holly should have some talk explaining to do about that.

Hurricane Betsy still prancing around down the South Atlantic way, raking Puerto Rico and speeding toward the Bahamas.

No danger as yet for the U. S. mainland, say the experts. We trust they're expediting this big wind a bit better than they did with one around this time last summer.

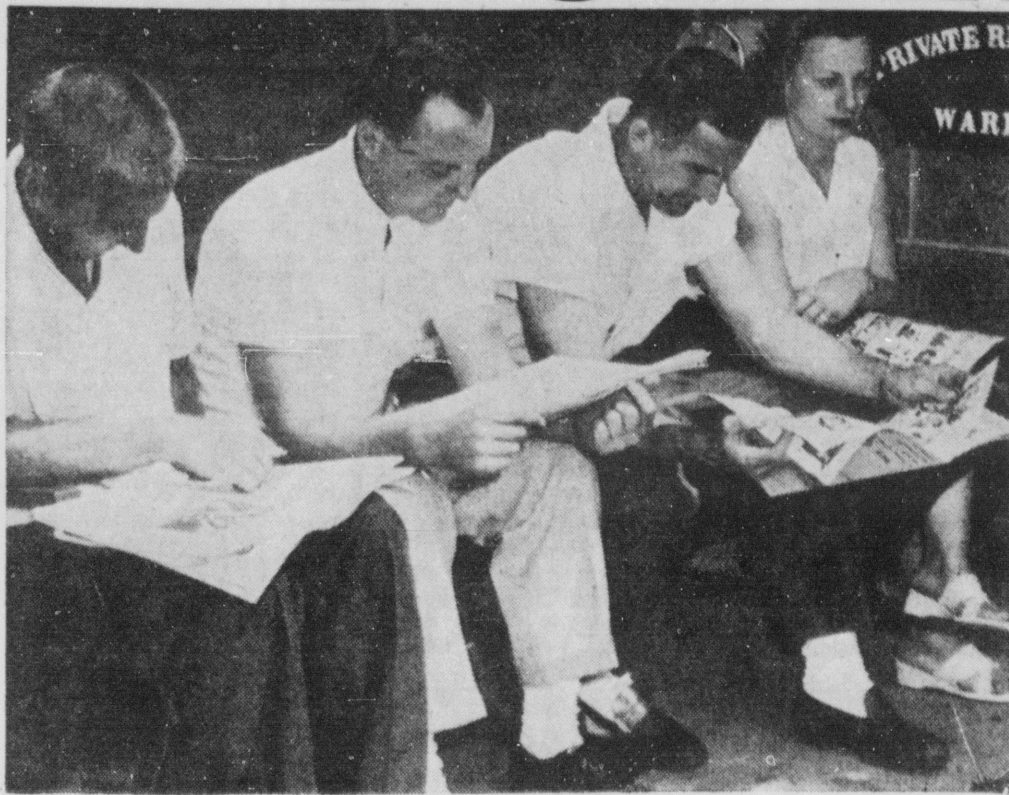

Mantle hits his 41st. You know something, the boy just might do it.

And Ted Kroll fires a 66 to pick up $50,000 in that Tam O'Shanter "world" championship tourney. That makes him the champ money player of the year.

The world is full of people who want their consciences to be your guide.

An alarm clock is one of those devices designed to scare the daylight into you.

If you drive, be careful.

Husbands of Broadway Manor wives who were committed to Bucks County Prison on Saturday wait at the prison for their wives to be released. They are (from left) Harry Lundholm, 3102 Broadway avenue; Frank Beschert, 3104 Broadway avenue; Roy Riggle, 1409 Fourth avenue; and Mrs. Warren Seese, 3102 Broadway avenue, who was deputized as a matron to take care of the four women.

Broadway Manor wives are reunited with their husbands outside the prison gates. There are (from left) Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beschert, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Riggle, Mrs. Mary Owens (behind Mrs. Riggle) whose husband was out of town, and Mr. and Mrs. Lundholm.

Mother, Girl Escape Death In Auto Crash

A mother and daughter narrowly escaped death when their car struck a utility pole and turned over several times on Street road, early this morning.

The driver, Miss Maureen Young, 17, of 2051 Clover avenue, Cornwells Heights, Bensalem township, told police she fell asleep at the wheel of her car while driving home from her mother's business establishment.

Mary Young, mother of the driver, and her daughter were taken to the Lower Bucks County hospital where they both were treated for cuts and bruises and released.

Teenage Trio Arrested In Burglary Case

Bristol Twp. Police Say Youths Admit Service Station Job

Three teenage youths were arrested early this morning after they reportedly attempted to burglarize a Shell service station on Route 13 in Bristol township. The youths, whose names are being withheld by the police, admitted burglarizing another service station on Mill Creek and Edgely avenues last evening.

Trio Spotted
Bristol township Patrolmen John Harman and Andrew Jansen said they were called by the youths.

L'town Father Overwhelmed By Response For Sick Daughter

William R. Smith of 17 Valley Road, Violetwood, Levittown, whose seven-year-old daughter, Yvonne, undergoes an operation in Philadelphia Tuesday to correct a heart defect, said today he was "overwhelmed" by the response to pleas for blood donors.

The father said more than 300 persons in Levittown had offered to give blood. The plea also was answered by some 100 soldiers at Ft. Dix, N. J.

Army physicians selected 35 of the soldiers who received blood tests today to insure their blood matches that of the little girl.

Doctors at Philadelphia's Jefferson Hospital give tiny Yvonne less than a slim chance to recover. They said two holes in her heart must be sealed off. She will receive at least 30 pints of blood while the operation is in progress.

Members of the Frankford Arsenal, Philadelphia, yesterday also answered the plea for the life-giving blood. They told hospital officials they would be on standby in case any more blood was needed. A spokesman for the group estimated they had at least 75 persons with the child's type of blood.

Works 17 Hours A Day
Smith, an employee of the U. S. Steel Company's National Tube Division, took another job as a gas station attendant during the nationwide steel strike and now works 17 hours a day to meet expenses.

As volunteers continued to offer their blood, Smith said, "I always knew there were good people around, but I didn't know there were so many until now."

"This is the greatest thing that ever happened to me and my little girl. No money could ever repay what these people are doing for us."

Yvonne has been hospitalized 40 times since birth with medical expenses totaling nearly $30,000. Her father said about 90 per cent of the bills were paid by company insurance.

The Smiths have two other children, William Jr., 30 months, and Walter, nine months.

Great Britain Shifts Troops

LONDON — UP — Britain has begun to pull its troops and equipment out of West Germany to replenish strategic reserves during the Suez Canal crisis, a German government spokesman announced today in Bonn.

The Bonn government announcement came as Britain increased its flow of troops, planes and guns to the Middle East in answer to Egypt's refusal to attend the conference.

Swimmer Drowns Near Morrisville

An 18-year-old Puerto Rican youth drowned in the Delaware River, off Morrisville, yesterday afternoon despite rescue efforts of his uncle.

The victim, Eleuterio Cortes Reyes, a native of Manati, Puerto Rico, was swimming about 50 yards offshore when he called for help.

His uncle, Jose Cortes, 36, of 122 Stockton avenue, Trenton, reported the youth called, "I'm tired, grab me, I've got a cramp."

Pulled Under
Cortes said he was swimming near the victim and went to his aid, but his nephew pulled him under. Cortes broke loose and got to shore to get a boat.

He was unable to put the boat in the water and called for help. An unidentified neighbor summoned police, who called units of the Interstate Marine Association.

Cortes' wife, Guillermina, 30, who is expecting a child next month, collapsed in shock and was taken to Mercer hospital, Trenton. She was on the bank when Reyes went down and attempted to wade in after him but was restrained.

Cortes said his nephew went under shortly after 1 p.m. An hour later his body was recovered by a rescue boat. Rescuers administered artificial respiration for 20 minutes before Dr. T. J. Tuesday. But advance gales and hurricane force winds would be felt much sooner.

Winds of the mighty storm, recorded at 125 miles an hour when it slammed into the Bahamas, were blunted somewhat, but still dangerous. One person was killed in Puerto Rico.

Today's Weather
Mostly sunny, warm and humid today with high 85 to 90. Cloudy, scattered showers tonight. Mostly fair and continued warm Tuesday afternoon.

Demo Rivals Confident As Show Begins

CHICAGO—(UP)—Adlai E. Stevenson was more than 2-1 ahead of Gov. Averell Harriman in delegate support today as the Democratic National Convention formally opened at the International Amphitheater in the Chicago stockyards.

Both sides made confident claims of victory while fighting for uncommitted delegates whose ballots will decide the presidential nomination. But they were keeping their fingers crossed.

Harry S. Truman, the man who turned the convention into a race, said, "I'll support the nominee of the convention."

The former president on Saturday transformed what looked like a Stevenson walk-over into a real battle by pinning a Harriman button on his coat and declaring the New York governor is the party's best qualified candidate for president.

But Mr. Truman made it clear today he'll get out and whistle stop for Stevenson if he's the man the Democrats decide they want.

As of convention kickoff time, Stevenson still was front-runner by a wide margin. But Harriman was picking up strength—some of it presumably due to Mr. Truman's endorsement. The latest United Press tabulation of delegates' known first ballot preferences showed this box score:

Stevenson, 519, up 4½ since Saturday.
Harriman, 234, up 24½ since Saturday.

Favorite sons and other candidates, 317.

Unknown, 302.

Necessary to nominate, 686½.

For Mr. Truman, now that he

Last-Hour Move
By Labor Delegates
Nets Harriman 11

CHICAGO — UP — Pennsylvania's first formal caucus showed today 59½ Democratic convention votes for Adlai E. Stevenson, but New York Gov. Averell Harriman landed 11 votes on the strength of a dramatic last-hour move by labor delegates.

The official count in the closed caucus at the Morrison Hotel showed 119 delegates for Stevenson, 22 for Harriman, four not voting and three absent. Each delegate represents a half vote.

Gov. George M. Leader, chairman of the 74-vote delegation, said at a press conference after the three-hour Sunday night caucus had made his choice known, the big thing was to get on with the convention and plunge into no-holds-barred battle with the Republicans.

Five Finalists

"I think this convention will nominate a ticket that will sweep the terrible administration in Washington right out into the middle of Pennsylvania Ave.," he said.

"There never was a time in the history of the United States," Mr. Truman added, "when we needed an honest administration as we need it now."

Pickup 9th PGH: Lloyd Benefield post-midnight strategy conference that he had lost only 20 to 23 votes, formerly counted for him after Mr. Truman's decision. The Stevenson managers have been publicly claiming 630 first ballot votes.

The shadow of a convention floor fight over the civil rights plank in the party platform still clouded the convention outlook, at least for Stevenson, who has banked on substantial southern support.

At caucuses yesterday, delegations from Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas and Mississippi decided that they wanted to see the platform before talking about candidates. The platform is scheduled to go from the committee to the convention floor Wednesday night.

The Louisiana delegation caucused and decided to stick to Stevenson on the first ballot. And Gov. Luther Hodges and other North Carolina leaders praised Stevenson at their caucus.

The tendency for fence-sitting delegates to hold back was reflected in the Tennessee delegation.

There was talk of making Gov. Frank G. Clement a favorite son candidate — action which would permit the delegation to decide after the first ballot where it wanted to go.

Yardley Discloses Shop Center Plans

Two Philadelphia syndicates are interested in leasing land for a proposed $1,000,000 Yardley shopping plaza in the center of town, according to T. Sidney Cadwalader, borough attorney.

Negotiations are being held at present, he said, but positive action "may evolve gradually or unfold very rapidly. Before construction is possible, it may be six months or much longer."

The proposed shopping center

would comprise some 15 acres in the river-front community.

Topographical Model

Last Friday, civic and business leaders unveiled a four-foot square topographical model. It is on display in the office of the Yardley Building and Loan association and will remain there for several weeks.

The model plaza would be built between South Main street and Cadwalader drive.

Prospects for completion of negotiations for eight acres owned by Louis Seplow seemed "promising" according to Mr. Cadwalader. The latter is Mr. Seplow's attorney in negotiations between Seplow and a Philadelphia business syndicate. Altogether, the syndicate seeks to lease some 15 acres, including Mr. Seplow's parcel. Several other property owners in the borough are involved.

Upper Level Parking

If built, the modernistic plaza would feature three levels with the lower level for business establishments and the two upper ones for parking. A pedestrian walk is planned from South Main street to the lower level.

The plaza also could be entered by three access streets from three directions.

car then careened across the road and struck a tree.

Patrolmen Joseph Gallagher and Francis Brantlecht said extensive damage was done to the Kelly car.

Lost Control

Another one-car accident occurred early Saturday afternoon when a woman struck a rut in Grays avenue, Bridgewater, and lost control of her vehicle and traveled across a lawn, knocking over a table and chairs and stopping when she struck a greenhouse.

The driver, Marie E. Ludascher, of 1058 Grays avenue, told police she was making a turn onto Grays avenue from Route 13, when she lost control of the car.

Some property damage was done to the greenhouse, while more damage was done to Patrolman George Campbell's lawn and furniture.

Patrolman Campbell investigated the accident.

Bristol township reported a one-car accident early Saturday morning when a vehicle driven by William G. Barney, 29, of Rolling lane, Red Cedar Hill, Levittown, suffered a blowout on Levittown parkway and skidded crazily, hitting a utility pole and finally stopping some 400 yards away.

Patrolman Harry Smith, of Bristol township, said damage was estimated at $400.

Associate Board Of Trustees Plan Announced By LPRA

Action Seen As Aid For Recreation

The Levittown Public Recreation association today announced its intention to set up an Associate Board of Trustees this fall.

"The Associate Board will work with the LPRA's regular board of trustees in extending and improving the community's recreation program and will broaden the association's operational base," the announcement said.

The LPRA's decision has been made known in a letter to the Levittown Civic Association. The associate board plan was one of many recommendations made to the LPRA by an LCA study committee recently.

Letter States

The letter states as follows: "The LPRA board of trustees has instructed me to thank the Recreation Study committee of the Levittown Civic association for the interest it has shown in helping to solve LPRA problems and for its suggestions regarding future operations. You may be sure the ideas contained in the LPRA committee report are receiving our careful and serious consideration.

"As yet, no specific action has been taken. However, it is the consensus of the LPRA board that the formation of an Associate Board of Trustees would aid in the improvement and extension of the recreation program. It is my expectation that steps will be taken in the near future to organize an associate board.

"May I extend my personal thanks for the LCA's interest in improving Levittown's recreation program and its willingness to cooperate to that end."

The letter was signed by Dick Geruso, executive director of the LPRA.

According to Mr. Geruso, the LPRA's Associate Board will be composed of residents who have been active in community affairs. Details such as the size of the associate board and the manner in which it will function are now being considered, he said.

The Levittown Public Recreation is a non-profit corporation holding title to Levittown's recreation facilities. It is responsible for their maintenance and operation. Current Board of Trustees members are William J. Levitt, Alex Polett, Dick Geruso, and Ira Goldman, of the Levitt and Sons firm; and Ed Hough, David Melnick, and Ralph Howell, former members of the Levittown Civic association.

Levittown's recreation facilities include five Olympic-size swimming pools with related wading pools and hard surface courts, five Little League ball diamonds and the regulation-size diamond near the main shopping center.

The Administration building in the main shopping center, now occupied by the building firm will eventually be turned over to the LPRA for use as a community center.

Suez Crisis

ference in London Thursday on internationalizing the Suez Canal. Hundreds of British troops left Blackbushe and Hurn airports in Britain today for the Mediterranean in the biggest airlift since the Berlin blockade. The airlift, mysteriously postponed for 48 hours, was resumed in the face of Egypt's firm stand on the canal.

The British Foreign Office, meanwhile, announced that the Big Three foreign ministers will meet in London Wednesday to bring themselves up to date on the Suez crisis.

Seeing Levittown

By LYDIA BOGANE

When the Levittown pools were first built, it was pointed out that the community now had the opportunity to produce some of the finest swimmers in the country. With a swim instruction program in full swing, and the announcement that Levittown pools will be host to the Bucks County Junior Olympic Swimming Meet next month, it looks like we're on our way. Inside dope from the instructors tells us some of the young kids are terrific competition.

During the peak attendance hours at the Magnolia Pool, bathers create a bottled up traffic condition on Exit Lane that is probably duplicated on like streets near all the pools. With cars parked on both sides of the street, two lanes should be left open for traffic. But frequently, the parents park in these through lanes for periods of a couple of minutes where they honk and wait to pick up their riders. It would save everybody a lot of aggravation if the parents had their kids and guests walk directly to the parked car, instead of picking them up in front of the pool where they're usually not ready and waiting anyway.

Bucks County Playhouse producer Mike Ellis has announced that "The Remarkable Mr. Penny-packer" will begin a run there on August 20, the same date it was booked for last year when it was flooded out after one performance. Ellis promised "the play will go on this year in the commemoration of the flood, but without it."

Rumor has it that the Philadelphia Scrap Metal firm of Luria Brothers will seek a new site in Falls Township this week. The Company was turned down by the Supervisors recently when they asked for a zoning change that would allow a plant to be set up near Fallsington. With that site out of the question, they are evidently trying to find one more suitable to them and the community.

Drowning

Dougherty, of Morrisville, pronounced the youth dead at 2:30 p.m.

Cortes, speaking through an interpreter, Michael Hernandez, a roadman for the Keystone Automobile Club, said Reyes had been visiting him for about five months.

He said they had been swimming in the river near the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge for about 45 minutes before Reyes was stricken.

Factory Worker

The youth, he said, was a machine operator for a Trenton factory.

Among the rescue units at the scene were Croydon, Falls, Newportville, Edgely, Tullytown, Capital View and Union, of Morrisville, fire companies, Bristol Emergency and Bucks County Rescue Squads.

Morrisville Slates Check On Funds

cuss legal action. There was talk the group would file charges of false arrest against the builders, but Hodgkiss would not comment on this.

In telling of her experiences Saturday night Mrs. Riggie said, "we were treated just like criminals. They fingerprinted and mugged us and put us in individual cells along with other women prisoners. None of us slept and I was nauseous all night."

She added that when she was arrested she was at a neighbor's home with her two daughters, 12 and seven years old.

She explained that she had taken the girls next door because her toilet and bath facilities didn't work. "I had just finished bathing the girls and the youngest had fallen asleep. We were getting ready to go home when the officers came in. They took me away and left my two children, who started to cry, there."

The other three women were all at the home of Mrs. Warren Seese, 3102 Midway lane, when they were arrested.

Held On $500 Bail

All four women and a group of neighbors were taken before JP Frederick Holly, of Middletown township. He ordered the women held in $500 bail for a hearing on the charges to be held 8 p.m. Thursday.

J. P. Frederick Holly, who issued the warrants and held a hearing for the women, today said he tried to settle the disputes before the warrants were issued.

He said he called a meeting of some of the residents but "they stormed out." When the women were brought in, Holly said, a spokesman told them "you are going to jail." Later when their husbands tried to arrange bail Holly added some of the women said, "Look, you wanted us to go to jail so we will. Don't worry about bail now." "Since they wanted to go I sent them," the squire explained.

Charles Fink, of the Lower Bucks County Realty and attorney for Laurel Bend Homes, Inc., today issued the following statement:

"Those arrested were picketing Laurel Bend Homes, Inc., unlawfully.

"Officials of Laurel Bend Homes requested that such picketing be discontinued since it concerned Broadway Manor, Inc., not Laurel Bend Homes. Upon the refusal of the pickets to discontinue and a threat of continuance, Laurel Bend Homes, Inc., found it necessary to obtain justice by enforcement of the law."

August J. Hertweck and Bertram Rudy, who swore out the warrants against the women, are members of both the Laurel Bend Homes firm and of the company which built Broadway Manor.

When the women couldn't produce the bail he committed them to prison. Mrs. Riggie and Mrs. Lundholm were taken directly to the county prison, arriving at 1 a.m.

Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Bescript were first taken to Falls Township jail and placed in a cell for several hours. They were transferred to the county prison at 3 a.m.

House Deed Bond

It wasn't until 12:45 p.m. Sunday that the women were released, when a neighbor, W. C. Lawhead, 3101 Midway lane, put up the deed to his house as bond.

JP Holly deputized Mrs. Seese as matron and she accompanied the women to the prison Saturday night.

Harry Lundholm said Constable Raymond Fate, accompanied by Bristol Township police, arrested the women. He said they first went to his home and woke his 11-year-old son at 10 p.m.

"When I found out about this I went home while police took my wife and the others to Holly's. I thought it would be just a matter of routine and they would all be released for a later hearing. I had to go home and take care of the children," he said.

He said that his wife, June, and Mrs. Riggie are both members of the Bristol Methodist Church, and hadn't missed a Sunday until yesterday. The other women also attend church regularly, he said.

He explained that his wife is still "nervous" over the arrest.

Mrs. Owen said that she spent two hours in the Falls Township jail before being taken to Doylestown. Her husband, Gerald, was traveling to Kansas City on his job at the time and neighbors had to mind Mrs. Owen's child.

Hodgkiss said that the picketing was part of the group's plan to force the builders to correct "deplorable" drainage and cesspool conditions.

He explained 24 residents took part in the all-day picketing Saturday and that they were orderly. He maintained the picketing was performed in the front yard of a resident in Laurel Bend across from the sample house.

owner and manager of an adjacent service station. The two men told police they saw the youths near the rear of the service station and yelled at them.

Harman and Janssen called headquarters for assistance. Sgt. Ernest Nuskey and Patrolman Leonard Stoughton answered.

Harman and Janssen found the suspects' car parked along the canal behind the service station. Shortly afterwards, Sgt. Nuskey and Patrolman Stoughton came upon the three youths walking toward their car.

At first the boys denied any connection with the attempted burglary. When questioned later at police headquarters they admitted trying to burglarize the Route 13 service station and the burglary of the Edgely road establishment.

All three were detained at the Bristol Borough jail for arraignment later today.

The case was turned over to the Bristol township criminal investigation division for further investigation.

Mill Creek Road Work Is Resumed

Bristol Township road crews have resumed work on Mill Creek road, between Edgely avenue and the end of Mill Creek parkway, Levittown.

The road, which had been closed down for repairs over a week, was opened the past week-end. But, by this morning the new surface had been reduced to a series of holes and ruts, again.

Township workers were seen smoothing out the ruts and laying stone and pouring oil. The road, which was formerly 18 feet wide, has been widened to 24 feet.

Levittown Fire Whistle Still Mystery

The mystery of the blaring siren in the vicinity of Five Points, Levittown, remained a mystery today with Bristol township police, Levittown Fire Co. No. 2 and Levittown Emergency Squad denying knowledge of it.

The only organization with a stationary siren in the area is Fire Company 2, but the only time the siren is blown on anything but a fire call is at 8 p.m., according to Bill Neff, a company official.

On fire calls and other emergencies, the siren is set off by police at the Holly Hill headquarters.

One resident said the siren sounded at 7 p.m. and 9:20 p.m. yesterday, but Neff said those times did not correspond with emergency calls received by the fire company. He said the siren was not the company's.

Police also said no siren was set off at those times.

The siren can be heard in the Rancher sections of Levittown, Indian Creek, Crabtree and Oaktree Hollow, according to residents.

JUNEWOOD JOTTINGS By Fran Goldman 140 Junewood Drive WI 6-8328

Hya all! Hope you've all been enjoying this beautiful, beautiful weather.

Welcome home to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Beaumont and children, Janice and Keith, who have just returned from a wonderful vacation. They visited with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Freeman and family in Geneva, Seneca Falls, N. Y. Went to The Finger Lakes and Niagara Falls—Toured a winery and sampled Champagne. On the way back they spent some time with friends in Watkins Glen, N. Y. and New Milford, Pa. They wound up their big trip with a day in Ocean City.

Many happy returns of the day to Harvey Layton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gelb, 111 Jewel lane. July 22 was his big day. And a big one it was. He had a luncheon for his family and friends. His guests were Sharon Blitzstein, Barby Goldman, Bobby Schlager, Joey and Jackie Dodo, Bobby and Wayne Marks and his other friends, Joey, Ronald and Anthony. His family guests included his grandmother, Mrs. Richmond, and his other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Layton, Mr. and Mrs. L. Stein, Mrs. Elsie Segal, Mr. and Mrs. Max Stein and son, Howard; Mr. and Mrs. Max Kwait and daughter, Judy; and aunt and uncle Loretta and Isadore Kwait.

The Catholic Women of Junewood have formed a Block Rosary, and will meet every Wednesday evening. If any of you are interested in attending, call Betty Harris, WI-6-1700.

Birthday greetings to Mr. Paul Hankins, 74 Jewel lane, who celebrated his birthday July 28. To help him celebrate were Joan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coherd of Bethesda, Md.; Mrs. Wyle Clark, Willow Grove; and Joan's brother, Bob who is spending a few weeks with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallis Hall, 116 Junewood drive, spent a few days in Westbury, N. Y. with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shaver. When they returned they entertained Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dale and son, Gilbert, of New Castle, Del. This week Mr. Hall is expecting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Jessie L. Hall of Kansas City, Kansas, who will spend a few weeks with the family.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCormack, 37 Jewel lane, entertained Mrs. M's mother, Mrs. Winifred McCormack of Philadelphia from Wednesday to Sunday.
MORE MORE

The Junewood drive and Jewel lane Kiddies staged their own production last Saturday afternoon, and it was a huge success. The cast included Jan Michaels, Pam and Deanna Hall, Peggy and Jackie Roth, and twins, Ross and Russ. The show was held in Jan Michaels' back yard, 111 Junewood drive, and the settings, curtains, costumes and music was supplied by Jan's mother.

Bon voyage to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Michaels and children, Jan and Michael, 111 Junewood drive, who are sailing for Weisbaden, Germany on Aug. 18 where they will make their residence for a while. Mr. Michaels, who is employed by Philo Corp., has been transferred to Weisbaden. Mrs. Michaels is very happy about the whole thing because her sister is living there now. We are all so sorry to be losing such lovely neighbors. Good luck to all of you!

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harris, 33 Jester lane, had S. R. O. at their house last weekend. They entertained Mr. and Mrs. James Ahern, Camden; Mr. Raymond Harris, Mrs. Margaret Harris and Betty's little brother, James Stone, all of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henry and children celebrated papa's birthday July 2nd. They had a family dinner for the occasion. Those present were Paul's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henry and daughter, Barbara, of Reading, and Mrs. Anna Burney and sister Frances, of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Diehm, 105 Junewood drive, are having a family dinner in Philadelphia this weekend to celebrate a double occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Diehm are having their wedding anniversary and they are seeing Mr. Diehm's mother off on a flight to England where she will visit their daughter and son-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Darrel Messer, Dr. Diehm's parents are from Coatesville, Pa.

Jack Appel of New York has returned home after spending a wonderful vacation here with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Appel, 38 Junewood drive.

CONCORD PARK

New Resident Leaves For Bridge Games

By Doris V. Bullock
Elmwood 7-4254

Among the more recent residents of Concord Park are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moultrie who are great bridge enthusiasts. Mrs. Moultrie left Thursday to attend the 23rd American Bridge Association National Convention being held at Chicago from August 11 to 18. Hope Mrs. Moultrie will add another trophy to her many.

Other bridge enthusiasts of Philadelphia joined Mrs. Moultrie at the Bullocks' at a luncheon on Saturday. There were Mesdames Leerma Domon, Geraldine Kinney, Nellie Gaylord, Evelyn Joell, Ruby Boyd, Wyona Anderson, Miss Virginia Myers.

The Herbert Harrises spent the weekend in Wildwood. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond James of Philadelphia visited with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bens of Garfield lane. The C. J. Henrys have been enjoying the company of Mrs. Mattie J. Moore of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mosby of Washington D.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Wallace entertained Mrs. Jane Minter of Middletown, N.Y. at a picnic supper and swimming party at the Aqua Club in New Hope. Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Henry were among the guests.

Thanks to the saturated clouds, the picnickers returned to Concord Park to take refuge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph who have an exquisite collection of recorded music.

For the month of August Mrs. Sally Zone is the rotating secretary of the Concord Park Baby Sitters' Coop. Parents of the park interested in the organization should contact Mrs. Zorn at 4400 Concord drive.

IRATE BROADWAY MANOR PLAYS JAILING OF MOTHERS

Picketing Moms 'Sick' From Ordeal

Quartet Spends
Night In Bucks
County Prison

While four Broadway Manor mothers were recuperating from the ordeal of a night in Bucks County Prison, on a public nuisance charge, their neighbors, incensed over the incident, were gathering legal strength to come to their aid.

The women, all on the verge of hysteria, were confined to bed under doctors' orders yesterday after their release from prison.

The women are: Mrs. Margaret Beschert, 29, of 3104 Broadway avenue; Mrs. Lu-Vera Riggle, 32, of 1409 Fourth avenue; Mrs. June Lundholm, 32, of 3102 Broadway avenue, and Mrs. Mary Owen, of 3108 Broadway avenue.

They were arrested 10:30 p. m., Saturday, on warrants sworn out by August J. Hertweck, Philadelphia, and Bertram W. Rudy, Langhorne Manor, builders of Broadway Manor and Laurel Bend. The builders swore out the warrants after the women took part in the protest picketing across the street from the sample homes in Laurel Bend.

"This is ridiculous," said William Hodgkiss, chairman of a group of Broadway residents who have been protesting conditions in their community. "Snatching these women from their children and throwing them in jail like common criminals is outrageous. We will fight this with all we have."

Plan Legal Action
He said the group would meet with an attorney tonight to discuss the matter.

Good Evening!

Big Chicago extravaganza under way.

For the next two weeks we'd like to be chugging around with the boys up in Iceland. The hot air on this continent is going to be just about two degrees below absolute unbearable.

Truman the kingmaker? We'll all know better the end of the week. Could be the only real role he's playing is that of splitting the Democratic party wide open and lessening whatever chances it may have for a respectable showing against Eisenhower.

But we'll see what we see.

Four Broadway Manor mothers jailed for protesting against septic tank, cesspool and other conditions about their homes.

Here's hoping the residents of this new development really go to town on that one. That little section of Lower Bucks county is in America, isn't it? Have we come to a miserable estate where people demanding what they think is right are summarily imprisoned for their courage?

Justice of the Peace Holly should have some tail explaining to do about that.

Hurricane Betsy still prancing around down the South Atlantic way, raking Puerto Rico and speeding toward the Bahamas.

No danger as yet for the U. S. mainland, say the experts. We trust they're expediting this big wind a bit better than they did with one around this time last summer.

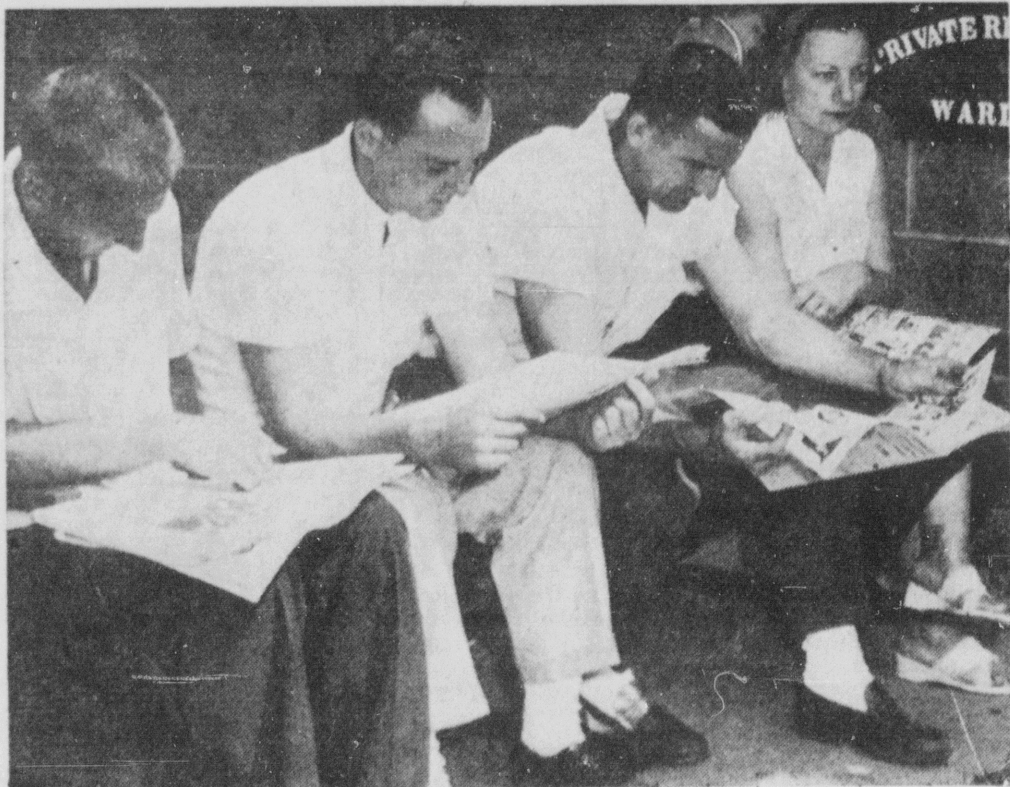

Mentle hits his 41st. You know something, the boy just might do it.

And Ted Kroll fires a 66 to pick up $50,000 in that Tam O'Shanter "world" championship tourney. That makes him the champ money player of the year.

The world is full of people who want their consciences to be your guide.

An alarm clock is one of those devices designed to scare the day-lights into you.

If you drive, be careful.

Husbands of Broadway Manor wives who were committed to Bucks County Prison on Saturday wait at the prison for their wives to be released. They are (from left) Harry Lundholm, 3102 Broadway avenue; Frank Beschert, 3104 Broadway avenue; Roy Riggle, 1409 Fourth avenue, and Mrs. Warren Seese, 3102 Broadway avenue, who was deputized as a matron to take care of the four women.

Broadway Manor wives are reunited with their husbands at Bucks County Prison after spending approximately 12 hours behind bars for picketing development buildings. They are (from left) Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beschert, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lundholm, Mrs. Mary Owens (behind Mrs. Lundholm) whose husband couldn't make it to the prison, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Riggle.

Four women who picketed the builders of Broadway Manor sign their bail release before JP Fred Holly after being released from Bucks County Prison. They are (from left) Mrs. Harry Lundholm, Mrs. Frank Beschert and Mrs. Mary Owens. Mrs. Riggle is at rear.

L'town Father Overwhelmed By Response For Sick Daughter

William R. Smith of 17 Valley Road, Violetwood, Levittown, whose seven-year-old daughter, Yvonne, undergoes an operation in Philadelphia Tuesday to correct a heart defect, said today he was "overwhelmed" by the response to pleas for blood donors.

The father said more than 300 persons in Levittown had offered to give blood. The plea also was answered by some 100 soldiers at Ft. Dix, N. J.

Army physicians selected 35 of the soldiers who received blood tests today to insure their blood matches that of the little girl.

Doctors at Philadelphia's Jefferson Hospital give tiny Yvonne less than a slim chance to recover. They said two holes in her heart must be sealed off. She will receive at least 30 pints of blood while the operation is in progress.

Members of the Frankford Arsenal, Philadelphia, yesterday also answered the plea for the life-giving blood. They told hospital officials they would be on standby in case any more

55 Winners Announced In Rec Event

John Petercuskie

Southampton Girl Cops Disney Trip

A nine-year-old Southampton girl will leave for Disneyland, Calif., within the next three weeks as winner of a coloring contest.

The girl, Patricia Groseck, of 510 Maple avenue, Southampton, colored her way to victory in a national event sponsored by the Mickey Mouse, Stretch Socks company.

Accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Groseck, the girl will spend a week in Disneyland with all expenses paid. She copped the prize by coloring a Disney cartoon on the back of a package of socks.

Disney Fan
Pat, who will enter fifth grade at the Southampton Elementary School in September, is a Disney fan and a Disney comic book enthusiast. Her mother reports she spends much time reading the adventures of Walt's characters, and she hopes to meet the noted cartoonist on her visit to the Far West.

The young Groseck girl is one of 10 winners who will make the trip today with high 85 to 90. Cloudy, scattered showers tonight. Mostly fair and continued warm Tuesday afternoon.

Registrars In S'hampton

Voters of Upper and Lower Southampton may register in their home townships this week and next.

Bucks County's traveling registrars will be at the Assumption BVM Church, Bristol road and Meadowbrook avenue, Trevose Heights, Lower Southampton, Wednesday.

Next Monday they will sit at Flecks Appliance Store, Street road, Southampton. Hours are from 2 to 9 p.m. at both places.

Leaders of both parties in Upper and Lower Southampton townships have urged residents to register so they may vote in the November election.

Persons who fail to sign up on either of these dates may do so at any other Bucks County spot visited by the registrars. Prospective voters may also register at Doylestown.

N. Y. Governor Gains Despite Adlai's Margin

CHICAGO — (UP) — Adlai E. Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman scrambled today for support among fence-sitting delegates to the Democratic National Convention. The convention formally opens today at the International Amphitheater in the Chicago stockyards.

What appeared last week to be a walk-over for Stevenson has turned into a real race. Former President Truman made it that way over the weekend when he pinned on a Harriman button and said the New York governor was the best qualified candidate to be president.

As of today, Stevenson was still the front runner by a wide margin but Harriman had picked up some strength. How much of it resulted from Mr. Truman's endorsement was uncertain, but an up-to-date United Press tabulation of delegates' known first ballot preferences showed this box score:

Stevenson, 519, up 4½ since Saturday.
Harriman, 234, up 24½ since Saturday.

Favorites sons and other candidates, 317.
Unknown, 302.

Necessary to nominate, 686½.
Lloyd Benefield, Harriman campaign manager, said Harriman's first ballot strength had climbed to about 400 and was rising steadily. He said Stevenson was "losing rapidly" and will falter on the second ballot after leading on the first.

CHICAGO — UP — Pennsylvania's first formal caucus showed today 59½ Democratic convention votes for Adlai E. Stevenson, but New York Gov. Averell Harriman landed 11 votes on the strength of a dramatic last-hour move by labor delegates.

Stevenson And Harriman In Convention Scramble

(Continued from Page One) post-midnight strategy conference that he had lost only 20 to 23 votes, formerly counted for him after Mr. Truman's decision. The Stevenson managers have been publicly claiming 630 first ballot votes.

The shadow of a convention floor fight over the civil rights plank in the party platform still clouded the convention outlook, at least for Stevenson, who has banked on substantial southern support.

At caucuses yesterday, delegations from Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas and Mississippi decided that they wanted to see the platform before talking about candidates. The platform is scheduled to go to the committee to the convention floor Wednesday night.

The Louisiana delegation caucused and decided to stick to Stevenson on the first ballot. And Gov. Luther Hodges and other North Carolina leaders praised Stevenson at their caucus.

The tendency for fence-sitting delegates to hold back was reflected in the Tennessee delegation, which has been counted for Stevenson.

Tennessee Undecided

There was talk of making Gov. Frank G. Clement a favorite son candidate — action which would permit the delegation to decide after the first ballot where it wanted to go.

A Pennsylvania caucus showed Harriman had picked up 11 votes in that state's 74-vote delegation. Stevenson retained 59½, an apparent loss of 3½ votes, and the balance were uncommitted.

California's 68 votes held firm for Stevenson. He was still credited with 50 of the 64 from his home state of Illinois and New Jersey's uncommitted bloc of 36 appeared weighted about 3 to 1 for Stevenson.

Stevenson himself said he did not think Mr. Truman's decision would have "any material effect" on his bid for the nomination.

Harriman, radiating confidence, started talking about the kind of a campaign he would wage against President Eisenhower — a "hard-hitting" campaign on "liberal and progressive issues."

Today's schedule at the amphitheater was largely routine except for the keynote speech tonight by Governor Clement.

The afternoon session was given over to the welcoming speeches. The big news was not being made at the convention hall, but in the down-town hotels where the candidates were singing sweet songs to political leaders who still hadn't made up their minds.

Start Political Rounds

Stevenson and Harriman started their dash around the loop hotels yesterday. Both appeared before the Arkansas delegation in the morning, Michigan last night. Harriman appeared on a television show; Stevenson was host at a reception for Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president and one of his most influential supporters.

Throughout the day they received a procession of delegates and state party leaders. Three delegates came to Stevenson from Ohio and told him they were leaving Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Ohio's favorite son candidate, on the first ballot.

Gov. George M. Leader, chairman of the 74-vote delegation, said at a press conference after the three-hour Sunday night caucus his prediction that "we'd have 65 or better by the first ballot . . . still goes."

"It will probably go to the second ballot now," he said, "and I have complete confidence that Stevenson will be nominated on the second ballot."

Leader refused to concede that Stevenson's chances might be dimmed if he failed to win nomination by the second ballot.

Green for Stevenson

As the Pennsylvania delegates poured into the Morrison Hotel by train and plane Saturday night and yesterday, the prime question was whether Rep. William J. Green Jr. of Philadelphia, would formalize hints he would support Harriman or plump for Stevenson.

After a full day of ducking the decision, Green finally announced that he was "supporting Stevenson 100 per cent."

But it was a contrasting announcement by a powerful delegate at large, President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers, Pittsburgh, that gave the Harriman forces their surprising gain.

McDonald said he thought "Harriman will be a stronger candidate than Stevenson" and that the Democrats "would have a better chance of carrying Pennsylvania."

Leader said he had rejected a suggestion that he be named Pennsylvania's "favorite son" as contrary to the rules of the party in Pennsylvania and "not the most democratic procedure."

Refuses To Identify Delegates

Leader refused to identify the delegates who voted for Harriman. But McDonald and other spokesmen identified these delegates as among the group:

McDonald, Thomas Kennedy, United Mine Workers, Hazleton; Cong. Francis E. Walter, Easton; Edward C. Corcoran, mayor of Beaver Falls; Joseph Yablonski, United Mine Workers, Clarksville; state House Speaker Hiram G. Andrews, Johnstown; Joseph T. Kelley, Philadelphia; John S. Quarry, Norristown; Harry Boyer, Reading, president of the Pennsylvania CIO Industrial Council; Ramon Reeder, Johnstown.

Ross Atwell, Oil City; David B. Roberts, Pittsburgh; Joseph M. Inghran, Greensburg; Regis F. Cusick, Pittsburgh; Helen K. Mascock, Washington; Charles Doberneck, Jeannette; the alternate voting for Paul W. O'Rourke, Drexel Hill; James A. O'Donnell, Bethlehem; Paul J. Dellaria, East Stroudsburg; and Harry K. Harley of Allentown.

Police Rodeo Set Tomorrow

The Pennsylvania State police today announced that their annual Rodeo Show will be held tomorrow at Villanova Stadium on Lancaster pike, Villanova.

Through an error, the State Police said, Aug. 15 was given as the scheduled show date. Aug. 15 will be the rain date, police said.

Shows will be at 1:30 and 6:30 p.m.

Crude Gunman Is Effective

KENDALVILLE, Ind. — UP — A gunman who robbed a filling station here last night was apologetic, nervous, crude — but effective.

The attendant at the Three Gables service station, Ed Ebert, said the bandit "was so nervous he needed both hands to hold on to the pistol."

"He said he was 'very sorry' and didn't want to hurt me if he could help it," said Ebert. "But he must have needed the money."

He took $260 from the cash register and shot out like a light.

Burglary Case

(Continued from Page One) sen said they were called by the owner and manager of an adjacent service station. The two men told police they saw the youths near the rear of the service station and yelled at them.

Harman and Janssen called headquarters for assistance. Sgt. Ernest Nuskey and Patrolman Leonard Stoughton answered. Harman and Janssen found the suspects' car parked along the canal behind the service station. Shortly afterwards, Sgt. Nuskey and Patrolman Stoughton came upon the three youths walking toward their car.

At first the boys denied any connection with the attempted burglary. When questioned later at police headquarters they admitted trying to burglarize the Route 13 service station and the burglary of the Edgely road establishment.

All three were detained at the Bristol Borough jail for arraignment later today.

The case was turned over to the Bristol township criminal investigation division for further investigation.

Preliminary investigation showed the burglary netted the youths practically nothing, police said.

Temperature To Go Over 90 Again

The mercury is expected to go over the 90-degree mark today for the second time in a row, as summer hits the area with full force.

Observers at the Weather Observatory recorded a warm 72 degrees at 8 a.m. today and predicted that temperatures would be "about the same as yesterday."

Yesterday's high was a sizzling 91 degrees, recorded at 3 p.m. The low was 68 degrees recorded at 6 p.m. No rain was recorded in the area.

Bristol Borough Council To Meet

The Bristol Borough council will meet at 8 p.m. today in the Municipal Building, in a regular monthly meeting.

Council President Arthur Chiericoni cordially invites the public to attend the meeting.

Board, Contractors To Meet On Poquessing School Delay

Picketing Moms 'Sick' From Ordeal

(Continued from Page One) cuss legal action. There was talk the group would file charges of false arrest against the builders, but Hodgkiss would not comment on this.

In telling of her experiences Saturday night Mrs. Riggie said, "we were treated just like criminals. They fingerprinted and mugged us and put us in individual cells along with other women prisoners. None of us slept and I was nauseous all night."

She added that when she was arrested she was at a neighbor's home with her two daughters, 12 and seven years old.

She explained that she had taken the girls next door because her toilet and bath facilities didn't work. "I had just finished bathing the girls and the youngest had fallen asleep. We were getting ready to go home when the officers came in. They took me away and left my two children, who started to cry, there."

The other three women were all at the home of Mrs. Warren Seese, 3102 Midway lane, when they were arrested.

Held On $500 Bail

All four women and a group of neighbors were taken before JP Frederick Holly, of Middletown township. He ordered the women held in $500 bail for a hearing on the charges to be held 8 p.m. Thursday.

J. P. Frederick Holly, who issued the warrants and held a hearing for the women, today said he tried to settle the disputes before the warrants were issued.

He said he called a meeting of some of the residents but "they stormed out." When the women were brought in, Holly said, a spokesman told them "you are going to jail." Later when their husbands tried to arrange bail Holly added some of the women said, "Look, you wanted us to go to jail so we will. Don't worry about bail now." "Since they wanted to go I sent them," the squire explained.

When the women couldn't produce the bail he committed them to prison. Mrs. Riggie and Mrs. Lundholm were taken directly to the county prison, arriving at 1 a.m.

Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Bescript were first taken to Falls Township jail and placed in a cell for several hours. They were transferred to the county prison at 3 a.m.

House Deed Bond

It wasn't until 12:45 p.m. Sunday that the women were released, when a neighbor, W. C. Lawhead, 3101 Midway lane, put up the deed to his house as bond. JP Holly deputized Mrs. Seese as matron and she accompanied the women to the prison Saturday night.

Harry Lundholm said Constable Raymond Fate, accompanied by Bristol Township police, arrested the women. He said they first went to his home and woke his 11-year-old son at 10 p.m.

"When I found out about this I went home while police took my wife and the others to Holly's. I thought it would be just a matter of routine and they would all be released for a later hearing. I had to go home and take care of the children," he said.

He said that his wife, June, and Mrs. Riggie are both members of the Bristol Methodist Church, and hadn't missed a Sunday until yesterday. The other women also attend church regularly, he said.

He explained that his wife is still "nervous" over the arrest. Two hours said that she spent two hours in the Falls Township jail before being taken to Doylestown. Her husband, Gerald, was traveling to Kansas City on his job at the time and neighbors had to mind Mrs. Owen's child.

Hodgkiss said that the picketing was part of the group's plan to force the builders to correct "deplorable" drainage and cesspool conditions.

He explained 24 residents took part in the all-day picketing Saturday and that they were orderly. He maintained the picketing was performed in the front yard of a resident in Laurel Bend across from the sample house.

The pickets carried signs saying "You should see our home first," and others.

Arnold Roebuck, of 4708 Brookside avenue, Laurel Bend, said the pickets were on his property. "I gave them permission," he said.

The Broadway residents had presented a list of complaints to the Bristol Township Board of Commissioners last week. The commissioners had appointed a committee to investigate the complaints and confer with the residents.

Last Friday the residents called a public meeting for tonight to form a civic association of all residents of new developments.

Burl Studies Waterfront Leasing Plan

The Finance and Public Affairs committee of the Burlington Council will study the possible uses of the city-owned property at East Pearl and Tatham streets.

The Recreation Commission has asked that the land be kept from public sale and be reserved for recreational purposes. The commission said that later the area could be developed for boating facilities.

The Mercury Boat Yard, located across the creek from the property has submitted a request to lease the lot for a ten-year period to expand its facilities.

Boat-yard owners Amos Hope and Constans Curtin said that if granted the lease, they would be willing to provide a public launching ramp, and make other improvements to the property.

Councilman Fritz Davis has indicated that he would oppose any ground-lease along the waterfront.

Yardley Discloses Shop Center Plans

Two Philadelphia syndicates are interested in leasing land for a proposed $1,000,000 Yardley shopping plaza in the center of town, according to T. Sidney Cadwalader, borough attorney.

Negotiations are being held at present, he said, but positive action "may evolve gradually or unfold very rapidly. Before construction is possible, it may be six months or much longer."

The proposed shopping center would comprise some 15 acres in the river-front community.

Topographical Model

Last Friday, civic and business leaders unveiled a four-foot square topographical model. It is on display in the office of the Yardley Building and Loan association and will remain there for several weeks.

The model plaza would be built between South Main street and Cadwallader drive.

Prospects for completion of negotiations for eight acres owned by Louis Seplow seemed "promising" according to Mr. Cadwalader. The latter is Mr. Seplow's attorney in negotiations between Seplow and a Philadelphia business syndicate. Altogether, the syndicate seeks to lease some 15 acres, including Mr. Seplow's parcel. Several other property owners in the borough are involved.

Upper Level Parking

If built, the modernistic plaza would feature three levels with the lower level for business establishments and the two upper ones for parking. A pedestrian walk is planned from South Main street to the lower level.

The plaza also could be entered by three access streets from three directions.

Registrars To Sign Voters

Traveling Registrars will sit in Lower Bucks County for the first time, in the current drive tomorrow, when they visit in the Hulmeville Borough Fire house, Hulmeville.

The drive opens today and will continue until Sept. 14, daily from 2 to 9 p.m.

The registrars will sit in Lower Southampton Township Wednesday at the Church of the Assumption, Bristol road and Meadowbrook avenue.

Today's schedule includes sittings at Bedminster Township, at the Utility building on the property of Mrs. Louise Saltzman; Wrightstown Township, M. E. Church Annex, Penns Park, Pa.; and Buckingham Township at the Grange Hall, Buckingham, Pa.

Other sittings tomorrow include Bridgetown Township, at the Fire House, Upper Black Eddy; and Chalfont Borough, at the Fire House in Chalfont.

Prices Higher For Republicans

LOS ANGELES — UP — The cost of shipping elephants and donkeys by air hasn't changed since the 1952 presidential conventions. It's still 60 cents a pound.

Trans-world airlines officials estimate that it would cost the Republicans $1200 to ship a one-ton elephant from New York to Chicago. The Democrats could send a donkey to Chicago from New York for $92.

Discussion Set On Date Of Completion

Members of the Lower Southampton School board will meet with contractors and construction personnel tomorrow night to seek a solution to the delays in building the Poquessing Elementary school, Feasterville.

The meeting will be held at the new school, which is partially completed. The Lower Southampton Township supervisors also will be represented, according to John Paul, school board president.

"We will try to iron things out and see exactly how late the school will be finished," explained Mr. Paul.

4 to 5 Weeks Late

The Poquessing building was supposed to be ready for use by the first day of school in September. Last week, Mr. Paul reported that if construction continued at its present rate, the building would be finished four to five weeks late, making it necessary for Poquessing students to be transferred temporarily to another school.

Arrangements have been made with Middletown Township to permit Poquessing students to attend the Walter Miller school in Levittown.

Last week Mr. Paul spoke to state officials about the situation and was promised an investigation of the matter.

The builders are subject to a fine for every day of delay after the September date, Mr. Paul reported.

Fire Company Sets Outing

The first annual outing of the Bristol Township Third District Fire company will be held Sunday at the Circle Inn Ranch, Oak avenue, Croydon.

The picnic was originally scheduled to be held at Square club, Croydon, but the firemen were forced to change their plans over the weekend.

Peter Vattimo, picnic chairman, announced that there will be refreshments, games, prizes and dancing in an outdoor pavilion.

Committee members are: Peter Vattimo, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. Stacey Childs, Mrs. Edward Margavich, Mrs. Frank Lippincott, Mrs. Ernest VonVital, Mrs. Thomas Soulesby, Mrs. Frank Lustica, Mrs. Louis Amadio, George Licause, Frank Rago, Charles Phillips Sr., and Edward Hadlieman.

Saturday the Ladies auxiliary of company presented the men with a check for $750 to purchase a radio for the new fire truck which is expected to arrive Friday.

Kaiser Firm Reports Earnings

In its first quarterly report to stockholders, Kaiser Industries Corporation and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, Henry J. Kaiser Company and Willys Motors, Inc., show consolidated net earnings of $5,288,000 for the six months ended June 30, 1956. Of this amount, $5,150,000 was earned during the 3½ month period following acquisition of Henry J. Kaiser company by Kaiser Industries corporation. During the six-month period the Willys Motors Jeep and commercial vehicle business was operated at a nominal profit.

Included in these net earnings is an estimated $2,355,000 special credit stemming from an agreement entered into by Kaiser Industries Corporation, Henry J. Kaiser Company, Willys Motors, Inc., Kaiser Steel Corporation and Kaiser Metal Products, Inc., for the filing of consolidated federal income tax returns commencing with the taxable year ending Dec. 31, 1956, and for the use of net loss carryovers available to the group.

IRATE BROADWAY MANOR PLAYS JAILING OF MOTHERS

Quartet Spends
Night In Bucks
County Prison

While four Broadway Manor mothers were recuperating from the ordeal of a night in Bucks County Prison, on a public nuisance charge, their neighbors, incensed over the incident, were gathering legal strength to come to their aid.

The women, all on the verge of hysteria, were confined to bed under doctors' orders yesterday after their release from prison.

The women are: Mrs. Margaret Bescrypt, 29, of 3104 Broadway avenue; Mrs. Lu Vera Riggle, 32, of 1409 Fourth avenue; Mrs. June Lundholm, 32, of 3102 Broadway avenue; and Mrs. Mary Owen, of 3108 Broadway avenue.

They were arrested 10:30 p. m., Saturday, on warrants sworn out by August J. Hertweck, Philadelphia, and Bertram W. Rudy, Langhorne Manor, builders of Broadway Manor and Laurel Bend. The builders swore out the warrants after the women took part in the protest picketing across the street from the sample homes in Laurel Bend.

"This is ridiculous," said William Hodgkiss, chairman of a group of Broadway residents who have been protesting conditions in their community. "Snatching these women from their children and throwing them in jail like common criminals is outrageous. We will fight this with all we have."

Plan Legal Action

He said the group would meet with an attorney tonight to discuss the matter.

Good Evening!

Big Chicago extravaganza under way.

For the next two weeks we'd like to be chugging around with the boys up in Iceland. The hot air on this continent is going to be just about two degrees below absolutely unbearable.

Truman the kingmaker? We'll all know better the end of the week. Could be the only real role he's playing is that of splitting the Democratic party wide open and lessening whatever chances it may have for a respectable showing against Eisenhower.

But we'll see what we see.

Four Broadway Manor mothers jailed for protesting against septic tank, cesspool and other conditions about their homes.

Here's hoping the residents of this new development really go to town on that one. That little section of Lower Bucks county is in America, isn't it? Have we come to a miserable estate where people demanding what they think is right are summarily imprisoned for their courage?

Justice of the Peace Holly should have some tall explaining to do about that.

Hurricane Betsy still prancing around the South Atlantic way, raking Puerto Rico and speeding toward the Bahamas.

No danger as yet for the U. S. mainland, say the experts. We trust they're expediting this big wind a bit better than they did with one around this time last summer.

Mantle hits his 41st. You know something, the boy just might do it.

And Ted Kroll fires a 66 to pick up $50,000 in that Tam O'Shanter "world" championship tourney. That makes him the champ money player of the year.

The world is full of people who want their consciences to be your guide.

An alarm clock is one of those devices designed to scare the daylights into you.

If you drive, be careful.

Mother, Girl Escape Death In Auto Crash

A mother and daughter narrowly escaped death when their car struck a utility pole and turned over several times on Street road, early this morning.

The driver, Miss Maureen Young, 17, of 2051 Clover avenue, Cornwells Heights, Bensalem township, told police she fell asleep at the wheel of her car while driving home from her mother's business establishment.

Mary Young, mother of the driver, and her daughter were taken to the Lower Bucks County hospital where they both were treated for cuts and bruises and released.

Police said the Young's car was a total loss. Patrolmen Joseph Gallagher and George Walker investigated.

Other Accidents

In other accidents over the weekend:

Four persons were injured in a one-car crash early Saturday morning when the driver of the automobile, Roger F. Kelly, 44, of Philadelphia, also fell asleep at the wheel and crashed into a mail box and then struck a tree on Huimeville road.

The four occupants of the car were taken to the Lower Bucks County hospital by the Bristol Emergency Squad. Ruth Kelly, 41, wife of the driver was treated for minor injuries, while two daughters, Patricia, 17, and Jacqueline, seven, were treated for cuts and bruises and released.

Kelly told Bensalem township police he didn't remember anything until he struck the mail box. His car was a total loss.

L'town Father Overwhelmed By Response For Sick Daughter

William R. Smith of 17 Valley Road, Violetwood, Levittown, whose seven-year-old daughter, Yvonne, undergoes an operation in Philadelphia Tuesday to correct a heart defect, said today he was "overwhelmed" by the response to pleas for blood donors.

The father said more than 300 persons in Levittown had offered to give blood. The plea also was answered by some 100 soldiers at Ft. Dix, N. J.

Army physicians selected 35 of the soldiers who received blood tests today to insure their blood matches that of the little girl.

Doctors at Philadelphia's Jefferson Hospital give tiny Yvonne less than a slim chance to recover. They said two holes in her heart must be sealed off. She will receive at least 30 pints of blood while the operation is in progress.

Members of the Frankford, Arsenal, Philadelphia, yesterday also answered the plea for the life-giving blood. They told hospital officials they would be on standby in case any more

Great Britain Shifts Troops

LONDON — UP — Britain has begun to pull its troops and equipment out of West Germany to replenish strategic reserves during the Suez Canal crisis, a German government spokesman announced today in Bonn.

The Bonn government announcement came as Britain increased its flow of troops, planes and guns to the Middle East in answer to Egypt's refusal to attend the conference in Bonn.

Swimmer Drowns Near Morrisville

An 18-year-old Puerto Rican youth drowned in the Delaware River, off Morrisville, yesterday afternoon despite rescue efforts of his uncle.

The victim, Eleuterio Cortes Reyes, a native of Manati, Puerto Rico, was swimming about 50 yards offshore when he called for help.

His uncle, Jose Cortes, 36, of 122 Stockton avenue, Trenton, reported the youth called, "I'm tired, grab me, I've got a cramp."

Pulled Under

Cortes said he was swimming near the victim and went to his aid, but his nephew pulled him under. Cortes broke loose and got to shore to get a boat.

He was unable to put the boat in the water and called for help. An unidentified neighbor summoned police, who called units of the Interstate Marine Association.

Cortes' wife, Guillermina, 30, who is expecting a child next month, collapsed in shock and was taken to Mercer hospital, Trenton. She was on the bank when Reyes went down and attempted to wade in after him but was restrained.

Cortes said his nephew went under shortly after 1 p. m. An hour later his body was recovered by a rescue boat. Rescuers administered artificial respiration for 20 minutes before Dr. T. J. (Continued On Page 3, Col. 5)

Fla. Alerted For Hurricane

MIAMI UP — The Florida east coast was put on the alert today for Hurricane Betsy, barreling through the Atlantic with 110-mile-an-hour winds that already have caused one death.

At 12 noon (EDT) Betsy, the year's first full blown hurricane, was only 530 miles east southeast of Miami and rolling ahead at 19 miles an hour, a fast pace for a tropical storm.

The Florida east coast from Daytona Beach south to Miami, was put on hurricane alert. At its present rate and course the hurricane center would hit the mainland in 28 hours—about 4 p. m. (EDT) Tuesday. But advance gales and hurricane force winds would be felt much sooner.

Winds of the mighty storm, recorded at 125 miles an hour when it slammed into the Bahamas, were blunted somewhat, but still dangerous. One person was killed in Puerto Rico.

Demo Rivals Confident As Show Begins

CHICAGO—(UP)—Adlai E. Stevenson was more than 2-1 ahead of Gov. Averell Harriman in delegate support today as the Democratic National Convention formally opened at the International Amphitheater in the Chicago stockyards.

Both sides made confident claims of victory while fighting for uncommitted delegates whose ballots will decide the presidential nomination. But they were keeping their fingers crossed.

Harry S. Truman, the man who turned the convention into a race, said, "I'll support the nominee of the convention."

The former president on Saturday transformed what looked like a Stevenson walk-over into a real battle by pinning a Harriman button on his coat and declaring the New York governor is the party's best qualified candidate for president.

But Mr. Truman made it clear today he'll get out and whistle stop for Stevenson if he's the man the Democrats decide they want.

As of convention kickoff time, Stevenson still was front-runner by a wide margin. But Harriman was picking up strength—some of it presumably due to Mr. Truman's endorsement. The latest United Press tabulation of delegates' known first ballot preferences showed this box score:

Stevenson, 519, up 4½ since Saturday.
Harriman, 234, up 24½ since Saturday.
Favorite sons and other candidates, 317.
Unknown, 302.
Necessary to nominate, 686½.

had made his choice known, the big thing was to get on with the convention and plunge into no-holds-barred battle with the Republicans.

"I think this convention will nominate a ticket that will sweep the terrible administration in Washington right into the middle of Pennsylvania Ave.," he said.

"There never was a time in the history of the United States," Mr. Truman added, "when we needed an honest administration as we need it now."

The shadow of a convention floor fight over the civil rights plank in the party platform still clouded the convention outlook, at least for Stevenson, who has banked on substantial southern support.

At caucuses yesterday, delegations from Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas and Mississippi decided that they wanted to see the platform before talking about candidates. The platform is scheduled to go from the committee to the convention floor Wednesday night.

The Louisiana delegation caucused and decided to stick to Stevenson on the first ballot. And Gov. Luther Hodges and other North Carolina leaders praised Stevenson at their caucus.

The tendency for fence-sitting delegates to hold back was reflected in the Tennessee delegation, which has been counted for Stevenson.

There was talk of making Gov. Frank G. Clement a favorite son of the Democrats.

candidate — action which would permit the delegation to decide after the first ballot where it wanted to go.

Yardley Discloses Shop Center Plans

Two Philadelphia syndicates are interested in leasing land for a proposed $1,000,000 Yardley shopping plaza in the center of town, according to T. Sidney Cadwalader, borough attorney.

Negotiations are being held at present, he said, but positive action "may evolve gradually or unfold very rapidly. Before construction is possible, it may be six months or much longer."

The proposed shopping center

would comprise some 15 acres in the river-front community.

Topographical Model

Last Friday, civic and business leaders unveiled a four-foot square topographical model. It is on display in the office of the Yardley Building and Loan association and will remain there for several weeks.

The model plaza would be built between South Main street and Cadwalader drive.

Prospects for completion of negotiations for eight acres owned by Louis Seplow seemed "promising" according to Mr. Cadwalader. The latter is Mr. Seplow's attorney in negotiations between Seplow and a Philadelphia business syndicate. Altogether, the syndicate seeks to lease some 15 acres, including Mr. Seplow's parcel. Several other property owners in the borough are involved.

Upper Level Parking

If built, the modernistic plaza would feature three levels with the lower level for business establishments and the two upper ones for parking. A pedestrian walk is planned from South Main street to the lower level.

The plaza also could be entered by three access streets from three directions.

Levittowners Plan Tot-Lot

Residents of the Dogwood and Junewood sections have been invited to attend a meeting tonight at 143 Dogwood Drive to discuss plans for raising funds in support of a tot-lot planned in that area.

Mrs. James Boyle invited all interested families to attend the meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. at her home.

The tot-lot, located between the two sections of Haines road has been donated to the township by Levitt and Sons Inc.

"Though the township Board of Recreation plans to equip the area eventually, they have five playgrounds in all to supply," Mrs. Boyle pointed out.

"We feel that if the people in the area near the lots would pitch in and help supply play equipment now, the children would be able to use the playgrounds that much sooner."

Mrs. Boyle said the Board of Recreation would be willing to help any groups of residents who undertake to help with the playground plans.

his prediction that "we'd have 65 or better by the first ballot . . . still goes."

"It will probably go to the second ballot now," he said, "and I have complete confidence that Stevenson will be nominated on the second ballot."

Levittown Driver Injured In Crash

A Levittown motorist was injured seriously late Saturday night when a vehicle he was operating on Main street, Hulmeville was involved in an accident.

The driver, John Phillips, was taken to Lower Bucks County hospital where he was admitted with internal injuries. Hospital officials said his condition was fair today.

Yardley May Act On Adjustments

A request that Yardley borough council act on securing tax adjustments to areas stricken by last year's flood, may be made at tonight's regular session it was learned.

car then careened across the road and struck a tree.

Patrolmen Joseph Gallagher and Francis Brantle said extensive damage was done to the Kelly car.

Lost Control

Another one-car accident occurred early Saturday afternoon when a woman struck a rut in Grays avenue, Bridgewater, and lost control of her vehicle and traveled across a lawn, knocking over a table and chairs and stopping when she struck a greenhouse.

The driver, Marie E. Ludascher, of 1058 Grays avenue, told police she was making a turn onto Grays avenue from Route 13, when she lost control of the car.

Some property damage was done to the greenhouse, while more damage was done to Patrolman George Campbell's lawn and furniture.

Patrolman Campbell investigated the accident.

Bristol township reported a one-car accident early Saturday morning when a vehicle driven by William G. Barney, 29, of Rolling lane, Red Cedar Hill, Levittown, suffered a blowout on Levittown parkway and skidded crazily, hitting a utility pole and finally stopping some 400 yards away.

Patrolman Harry Smith, of Bristol township, said damage was estimated at $400.

Tullytown Council To Meet Tonight

Tullytown Borough council will meet tonight at the Fire House in a regular monthly meeting. The meeting begins at 8 o'clock.

The meeting is open to the public.

Action Seen As Aid For Recreation

The Levittown Public Recreation association today announced its intention to set up an Associate Board of Trustees this fall.

"The Associate Board will work with the LPRA's regular board of trustees in extending and improving the community's recreation program and will broaden the association's operational base," the announcement said.

The LPRA's decision has been made known in a letter to the Levittown Civic Association. The associate board plan was one of many recommendations made to the LPRA by an LCA study committee recently.

Letter States

The letter states as follows: "The LPRA board of trustees has instructed me to thank the Recreation Study committee of the Levittown Civic Association for the interest it has shown in helping to solve LPRA problems and for its suggestions regarding future operations. You may be sure the ideas contained in the LPRA committee report are receiving our careful and serious consideration."

"As yet, no specific action has been taken. However, it is the consensus of the LPRA board that the formation of an Associate Board of Trustees would aid in the improvement and extension of the recreation program. It is my expectation that steps will be taken in the near future to organize an associate board."

"May I extend my personal thanks for the LCA's interest in improving Levittown's recreation program and its willingness to co-operate to that end."

The letter was signed by Dick Geruso, executive director of the LPRA.

According to Mr. Geruso, the LPRA's Associate Board will be composed of residents who have been active in community affairs. Details such as the size of the associate board and the manner in which it will function are now being considered, he said.

The Levittown Public Recreation is a non-profit corporation holding title to Levittown's recreation facilities. It is responsible for their maintenance and operation. Current Board of Trustees members are William J. Levitt, Alex Polett, Dick Geruso, and Ira Goldman, of the Levitt and Sons firm; and Ed Hough, David Melnick, and Ralph Howell, former members of the Levittown Civic association.

Levittown's recreation facilities include five Olympic-size swimming pools with related wading pools and hard surface courts, five Little League ball diamonds and the regulation-size diamond near the main shopping center.

The Administration building in the main shopping center, now occupied by the building firm will eventually be turned over to the LPRA for use as a community center.

Suez Crisis

ference in London Thursday on internationalizing the Suez Canal.

Hundreds of British troops left Blackbushe and Hurn airports in Britain today for the Mediterranean in the biggest airlift since the Berlin blockade. The airlift, mysteriously postponed for 48 hours, was resumed in the face of Egypt's firm stand on the canal.

The British Foreign Office, meanwhile, announced that the Big Three foreign ministers will meet in London Wednesday to bring themselves up to date on the Suez crisis.

Seeing Levittown

By LYDIA BOGANE

When the Levittown pools were first built, it was pointed out that the community now had the opportunity to produce some of the finest swimmers in the country. With a swim instruction program in full swing, and the announcement that Levittown pools will be host to the Bucks County Junior Olympic Swimming Meet next month, it looks like we're on our way. Inside dope from the instructors tells us some of the young kids are terrific competition material.

During the peak attendance hours at the Magnolia Pool, bathers create a bottled up traffic condition on Exit Lane, that is probably duplicated on like streets near all the pools. With cars parked on both sides of the street, two lanes should be left open for traffic. But frequently, the parents park in these through lanes for periods of a couple of minutes where they honk and wait to pick up their riders. It would save everybody a lot of aggravation if the parents had their kids and guests walk directly to the parked car, instead of picking them up in front of the pool where they're usually not ready and waiting anyway.

Bucks County Playhouse producer Mike Ellis has announced that "The Remarkable Mr. Penny-packer" will begin a run there on August 20, the same date it was booked for last year when it was flooded out after one performance. Ellis promised "the play will go on this year in commemoration of the flood, but without it."

Rumor has it that the Philadelphia Scrap Metal firm of Luria Brothers will seek a new site in Falls Township this week. The Company was turned down by the Supervisors recently when they asked for a zoning change that would allow a plant to be set up near Fallsington. With that site out of the question, they are evidently trying to find one more suitable to them and the community.

He said he called a meeting of some of the residents but "they stormed out." When the women were brought in, Holly said, a spokesman told them "you are going to jail." Later when their husbands tried to arrange bail Holly added some of the women said, "Look, you wanted us to go to jail so we will. Don't worry about bail now." "Since they wanted to go I sent them," the squire explained.

Charles Fink, of the Lower Bucks County Realty and attorney for Laurel Bend Homes, Inc., today issued the following statement:

Drowning

Dougherty, of Morrisville pronounced the youth dead at 2:30 p.m.

Cortes, speaking through an interpreter, Michael Hernandez, a roadman for the Keystone Automobile Club, said Reyes had been visiting him for about five months.

He said they had been swimming in the river near the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge for about 45 minutes before Reyes was stricken.

Factory Worker

The youth, he said, was a machine operator for a Trenton factory.

Among the rescue units at the scene were Croydon, Falls, Newportville, Edgely, Tullytown, Capital View and Union, of Morrisville, fire companies, Bristol Emergency and Bucks County Rescue Squads.

Morrisville Slates Check On Funds

A check on expenditures of Morrisville borough during the past six months will be made tonight when council's finance committee meets.

cuss legal action. There was talk the group would file charges of false arrest against the builders, but Hodgkiss would not comment on this.

In telling of her experiences Saturday night Mrs. Riggie said, "We were treated just like criminals. They fingerprinted and mugged us and put us in individual cells along with other women prisoners. None of us slept and I was nauseous all night."

She added that when she was arrested she was at a neighbor's home with her two daughters, 12 and seven years old.

She explained that she had taken the girls next door because her toilet and bath facilities didn't work. "I had just finished bathing the girls and the youngest had fallen asleep. We were getting ready to go home when the officers came in. They took me away and left my two children, who started to cry, there."

The other three women were all at the home of Mrs. Warren Seese, 3102 Midway lane, when they were arrested.

Held On $500 Bail

All four women and a group of neighbors were taken before J.P. Frederick Holly, of Middletown township. He ordered the women held in $500 bail for a hearing on the charges to be held 8 p.m. Thursday.

J. P. Frederick Holly, who issued the warrants and held a hearing for the women, today said he tried to settle the disputes before the warrants were issued.

He said he called a meeting of some of the residents but "they stormed out." When the women were brought in, Holly said, a spokesman told them "you are going to jail." Later when their husbands tried to arrange bail Holly added some of the women said, "Look, you wanted us to go to jail so we will. Don't worry about bail now." "Since they wanted to go I sent them," the squire explained.

Charles Fink, of the Lower Bucks County Realty and attorney for Laurel Bend Homes, Inc., today issued the following statement:

"Those arrested were picketing Laurel Bend Homes, Inc., unlawfully."

"Officials of Laurel Bend Homes requested that such picketing be discontinued since it concerned Broadway Manor, Inc., not Laurel Bend Homes. Upon the refusal of the pickets to discontinue and a threat of continuance, Laurel Bend Homes, Inc., found it necessary to obtain justice by enforcement of the law."

August J. Hertweck and Bertram Rudy, who swore out the warrants against the women, are members of both the Laurel Bend Homes firm and of the company which built Broadway Manor.

When the women couldn't produce the bail he committed them to prison. Mrs. Riggie and Mrs. Lundholm were taken directly to the county prison, arriving at 1 a.m.

Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Bescript were first taken to Falls Township jail and placed in a cell for several hours. They were transferred to the county prison at 3 a.m.

House Deed Bond

It wasn't until 12:45 p.m. Sunday that the women were released, when a neighbor, W. C. Lawhead, 3101 Midway lane, put up the deed to his house as bond.

Levittown Fire Whistle Still Mystery

The mystery of the blaring siren in the vicinity of Five Points, Levittown, remained a mystery today with Bristol township police, Levittown Fire Co. No. 2 and Levittown Emergency Squad denying knowledge of it.

The only organization with a stationary siren in the area is Fire Company 2, but the only time the siren is blown on anything but a fire call is at 8 p.m., according to Bill Neff, a company official.

On fire calls and other emergencies, the siren is set off by police at the Holly Hill headquarters.

One resident said the siren sounded at 7 p.m. and 9:20 p.m. yesterday, but Neff said those times did not correspond with emergency calls received by the fire company. He said the siren was not the company's.

Police also said no siren was set off at those times.

The siren can be heard in the Indian Creek, Crabtree and Oak-tree Hollow, according to residents.

Obituary

AARON B. YOUNG

Aaron B. Young, 21 North Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville, died this morning in the Lower Bucks County hospital, after a short illness at the age of 79. He was born in Rocky Hill, N.J., and was the son of the late Henry S. and Martha C. Basteda Young. He resided in Morrisville for the greater part of his life. He had been retired for the past year from the Vulcanized Rubber and Plastic company, where he was employed for 65 years. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church in Morrisville.

He is survived by two sons, Aaron E. Young, Schuylkill Haven, and Richard M. Young, Levittown; three grandchildren, one sister, Miss Alice N. Young, Morrisville; one brother, Charles C. Young, Morrisville, and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral will be held from the J. Allen Hooper Funeral Chapel, 145 North Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville, Thursday at 2 p.m. Interment will be in the Morrisville Cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel Wednesday, 7 to 9 p.m.

owner and manager of an adjacent service station. The two men told police they saw the youths near the rear of the service station and yelled at them. Harman and Janssen called headquarters for assistance. Sgt. Ernest Nuskey and Patrolman Leonard Stoughton answered.

Harman and Janssen found the suspects' car parked along the canal behind the service station. Shortly afterwards, Sgt. Nuskey and Patrolman Stoughton came upon the three youths walking toward their car.

At first the boys denied any connection with the attempted burglary. When questioned later at police headquarters they admitted trying to burglarize the Route 13 service station and the burglary of the Edgely road establishment.

All three were detained at the Bristol Borough jail for arraignment later today.

The case was turned over to the Bristol township criminal investigation division for further investigation.

Mill Creek Road Work Is Resumed

Bristol Township road crews have resumed work on Mill Creek road, between Edgely avenue and the end of Mill Creek parkway, Levittown.

The road, which had been closed down for repairs over a week, was opened the past week-end. But, by this morning the new surface had been reduced to a series of holes and ruts, again.

Township workers were seen smoothing out the ruts and laying stone and pouring oil. The road, which was formerly 18 feet wide, has been widened to 24 feet.

JUNEWOOD JOTTINGS

By Fran Goldman
140 Junewood Drive
WI 6-8328

Hya all! Hope you've all been enjoying this beautiful, beautiful weather.

Welcome home to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Beaumont and children, Janice and Keith, who have just returned from a wonderful vacation. They visited with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Freeman and family in Geneva, Seneca Falls, N. Y. Went to the Finger Lakes and Niagara Falls—Toured a winery and sampled Champagne. On the way back they spent some time with friends in Watkins Glen, N. Y. and New Milford, Pa. They wound up their big trip with a day in Ocean City.

Many happy returns of the day to Harvey Layton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gelb, 111 Jewel lane. July 22 was his big day. And a big one it was. He had a luncheon for his family and friends. His guests were Sharon Blitzstein, Barby Goldman, Bobby Schlager, Joey and Jackie Dodo, Bobby and Wayne Marks and his other friends, Joey, Ronald and Anthony. His family guests included his grandmother, Mrs. Richmond, and his other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Layton, Mr. and Mrs. L. Stein, Mrs. Elsie Segal, Mr. and Mrs. Max Stein and son, Howard; Mr. and Mrs. Max Kwait and daughter, Judy; and aunt and uncle Loretta and Isadore Kwait.

The Catholic Women of Junewood have formed a Block Rosary, and will meet every Wednesday evening. If any of you are interested in attending, call Betty Harris, WI-6-1700.

Birthday greetings to Mr. Paul Hankins, 74 Jewel lane, who celebrated his birthday July 28. To help him celebrate were Joan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cohard of Bethesda, Md.; Mrs. Wyle Clark, Willow Grove; and Joan's brother, Bob who is spending a few weeks with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallis Hall, 116 Junewood drive, spent a few days in Westbury, N. Y., with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shaver. When they returned they entertained Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Daie and son, Gilbert, of New Castle, Del. This week Mrs. Hall is expecting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Jessie L. Hall of Kansas City, Kansas, who will spend a few weeks with the family.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCormack, 37 Jewel lane, entertained Mrs. M's mother, Mrs. Winifred McCormack of Philadelphia from Wednesday to Sunday.
MORE MORE

The Junewood drive and Jewel lane Kidlets staged their own production last Saturday afternoon, and it was a huge success. The cast included Jan Michaels, Pam and Deanna Hall, Peggy and Jackie Roth, and twins, Ross and Russ. The show was held in Jan Michaels' back yard, 111 Junewood drive, and the settings, curtains, costumes and music was supplied by Jan's mother.

Bon voyage to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Michaels and children, Jan and Michael, 111 Junewood drive, who are sailing for Weisbaden, Germany on Aug. 18 where they will make their residence for a while. Mr. Michaels, who is employed by Philo Corp., has been transferred to Weisbaden. Mrs. Michaels is very happy about the whole thing because her sister is living there now. We are all so sorry to be losing such lovely neighbors. Good luck to all of you!

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harris, 33 Jester lane, had S. R. O. at their house last weekend. They entertained Mr. and Mrs. James Ahern, Camden; Mr. Raymond Harris, Mrs. Margaret Harris and Betty's little brother, James Stone, all of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henry and children celebrated papa's birthday July 2nd. They had a family dinner for the occasion. Those present were Paul's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henry and daughter, Barbara, of Reading, and Mrs. Anna Burney and sister Frances, of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Diehm, 105 Junewood drive, are having a family dinner in Philadelphia this weekend to celebrate a double occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Diehm are having their wedding anniversary and they are seeing Mr. Diehm's mother off on a flight to England where she will visit their daughter and son-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Darrel Messer. Dr. Diehm's parents are from Coatesville, Pa.

Jack Appel of New York has returned home after spending a wonderful vacation here with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Appel, 38 Junewood drive.
